

Blueberry Lemon Protein Snack Cake (6x6 Glass Pan)

Final version sized specifically for your 6x6 glass pan. Yes—use parchment paper for easy removal and cleaner slicing.

Pan Prep

Use a 6x6 glass baking dish.
Line with parchment paper with slight overhang on two sides.
Lightly grease parchment and exposed sides.

Dry Ingredients

- 70g almond flour
- 36g unflavored whey protein isolate
- 16g coconut flour
- 24–26g powdered monkfruit/allulose sweetener
- 2 tsp baking powder
- 1/4 tsp salt

Wet Ingredients

- 120g full-fat Greek yogurt
- 70ml half-and-half OR 40ml heavy cream + 30ml water
- 44g melted butter
- 2 tbsp fresh lemon juice
- 2–3 tsp fresh lemon zest
- 1 tsp vanilla extract

Add-ins

- 70–80g fresh blueberries
- Optional sliced almonds for topping

Method

1. Preheat oven to 325°F.
2. Prepare parchment-lined pan.
3. Whisk dry ingredients well.
4. Whisk wet ingredients separately.
5. Combine wet + dry gently until just mixed.
6. Rest batter for 2 minutes.
7. Toss blueberries with 1 tsp almond flour and fold in gently.

8. Spread evenly in pan.
9. Bake 25–32 minutes (check at 24–25 min).
10. Cool in pan for 20–30 minutes before slicing.

Yield

6 larger squares OR 9 smaller squares.

Texture Goal

Moist tea cake bars with bright lemon flavor and juicy blueberry pockets.
